

THE BECKLEY FOUNDATION

PRESENTS THE FORTHCOMING REPORT

ROADMAPS TO REGULATION: COCA, COCAINE & DERIVATIVES

AT THE

59TH SESSION OF THE CND 2016

Amanda Feilding, founder and director of the Beckley Foundation, commissioned this report as part of the Foundation's Global Initiative for Drug Policy Reform. The aim of the report is to open up and advance the discourse on alternatives to prohibition of coca, cocaine, and its derivatives, as the issue of regulating these substances has never before been tackled.

The report will feature contributions from 20+ experts describing:

1. Coca/Cocaine's Context & History
(Section Coordinator: Paul Gootenberg)
2. Stages in the Supply Chain
(Section Coordinator: Ricardo Vargas Meza)
3. Possible Regulatory Models
(Section Coordinator: Hugo Cabieses)

This project was made possible by support from the Open Society Foundations.

The event will feature presentations from select contributors to the report:

- David Bewley-Taylor (Swansea University, UK): "The Evolution of International Control"
- Thomas Grisaffi (University College London, UK): "Bolivia's Cooperative Coca Control Strategy"
- Juan Carlos Garzón Vergara (Woodrow Wilson Center, USA): "Cocaine Trafficking in Central America"
- Gabriele Fischer (MedUni Vienna, Austria): "Health Consequences of Cocaine Use"
- Carla Rossi (CSS, Italy): "Analysis of Different Drug Policy Approaches and Consequences"
